

Ladies Who Launch An Introduction and Invite

Ladies who Launch aims to encourage more women into sailing and provide a fun and supportive “ladies only” learning environment.

Many sailing clubs are male dominated environments and typically, where women already sail as dinghy crew, many do not choose to helm, or perhaps have limited opportunity to helm. As a result many women are missing an opportunity to build sailing confidence which may be adding to their reluctance to helm - reducing their sailing confidence even further.

Ladies who Launch aims to break this cycle to generate as many confidence-building opportunities as possible for women to sail and to helm.

To provide these opportunities, following the inaugural meeting which took place at the East Lancashire Sailing Club on 19th June 2015, we have created a calendar of fortnightly events for ‘Ladies Who Launch’ which provides the opportunity to sail, learn, have fun and socialise with other like-minded women.

With thanks to Lottery Funding in 2016, Ladies who Launch became proud owners of two Hartley 12.2 dinghies with main sail, jib and asymmetric spinnaker giving us light and fast dinghies with enough sail configurations to provide good quality sail training opportunities. As an added benefit our new dinghies are light and easy to handle on land, too. We also have the use of existing Club boats, allowing for solo sailing for ladies up for the challenge.

During 2016 the group membership grew week on week. While skills were improved and new members became good friends we didn’t want to stop there. With the Hartley boats now in full use Ladies who Launch would like to extend membership, free of charge for the first three visits, to women who are not members of ELSC but still have an interest in starting sailing or would like to try sailing in a women only group. At present, although a ladies-only sailing group, we do still need to have some men around to help with Safety Boat cover, and provide extra muscle when we really do need it.

In 2017 our intentions are to keep enjoying sailing together and enjoying the company of like minded women. We will continue our fortnightly events, keep the doors open to new women, and also hopefully gain the qualifications we need to provide additional power boat (Safety Boat) operator cover, the only event role that is currently not filled by a woman.

This year we will continue to meet on alternate Friday mornings starting at 10am. Women are welcome to stay for as long as they can – we normally break for lunch, and, depending on the weather or our energy levels, continue sailing until mid-afternoon. We will remain informal, friendly and keen. All ages are welcome and no one has to attend every event, and we do understand that people may need to leave early due to other commitments.

Your Next Step?

Email us at info@sail-elsc.org.uk with the subject ‘Ladies Who Launch’ and one of our ladies will get back to you.